

Warley Medical Centre

Patient Participation Group

At our last Patient Participation Group we had a wonderful turnout of 70 plus people, which is the most people we have ever had at a PPG.

The October meeting consisted of a presentation by Emma Hall, Sandwell Hospital on Prostrate Cancer which people found very informative and interesting judging by the questions asked.

As a PPG we are a stand alone group within the Warley Medical Practice and as such we should have our own Officers. What we are in need of is a Secretary to take the notes of the meeting. If you wish to be considered for the Secretary's position will you please let me know by email or text prior to the next meeting taking place.

PRESENTATION

Dementia

Living with dementia can be difficult for the person experiencing the dementia and also for those around them. There is currently no cure for dementia, but what Buds can control is their response to the condition. With the right information and support people with dementia and their families can continue to lead positive and fulfilling lives.

Claire Mahmood from Buds will be making the presentation at the PPG.
